

End of life products minimising environmental impact

Waterloo products are predominantly manufactured from either steel, aluminium or plastics, virtually all of the materials are recyclable.

Waterloo supports sustainability, therefore we recommend that all products at the end of their life or are no longer required, be sent for reclamation and recycling at an appropriate facility.

Please dispose of or recycle any packaging in a responsible manner following any local authority guidelines and regulations.